

SPRING FORWARD, INTO SUMMER

Summer 2022

Gardens are ephemeral in nature; flowers bloom and fade, demonstrating the impermanence of all things and the need to start anew. The Spring Forward, Into Summer exhibition highlights these cyclical themes, as well as the cultural significance of the cutting garden. This summer display features a diverse range of flowers commonly used in arrangements—dahlias, lotus, and cosmos all presented in neatly staked rows, allowing viewers to bridge the gap between the process of production and enjoyment.
